The Brooklyn Museum, housed in a 560,000-square-foot, Beaux-Arts building, is one of the oldest and largest art museums in the country. Its world-renowned permanent collections range from ancient Egyptian masterpieces to contemporary art, and represent a wide range of cultures. The museum features pieces which represent each of the 5 major periods of Ancient Egyptian Art. The collection includes the noted Black Madonna and child statue of Pepi II.

Jabari Osaze has studied Ancient Egypt for over 20 years, focusing primarily on the areas of philosophy, esoteric symbols and sacred science. Brother Osaze has led study groups in Egypt since 2002 and tours of the world-renowned Egyptian collections of New York's Brooklyn Museum and Metropolitan Museum of Art.

While completing his Bachelor of Science degree at Cornell University, Brother Osaze's studies led him to the monumental works of Ra Un Nefer Amen and R.A. Schwaller de Lubicz. This led him towards the practice of the Ancient Egyptian (Kemetic) ideal. In 1998, he was initiated into a Kemetic order, the Shrine of Ptah, by Chief Priest Heru Ankh Ra Semahj Se Ptah and was recently ordained as a Kemetic Priest. Jabari is a doctoral candidate at the University of Metaphysical Sciences and the Co-Producer and Co-Host of the TV Show, Kemetic Legacy Today. He is also the Co-founder of the Center for the Restoration of Ma'at.
